

Fall 2019
Italian Visa Application Checklist
Requirements of the Italian Consulate in NYC

Review Deadline for all materials by OIE:

- Attend a Required Document Review session by May 1, 2019

All students participating in a fall 2019 Rome semester program are required to submit their visa applications directly to the Italian Consulate.

Important Note about International Travel Prior to Studying Abroad: Due to the processing time of the Italian Consulate, you will most likely receive your passport with affixed visa 2 to 6 weeks after your scheduled appointment with the Italian Consulate in NYC. Students wishing to study abroad on a fall 2019 semester program should not plan any travel outside the U.S. from mid-May 2019 to departure in August 2019, until you know the date of your visa appointment and confirm processing time with the Consulate.

This Italian Visa Application Checklist was developed by the St. John's University Office of International Education to help guide students participating in the following study abroad programs with their Italian visa application process:

- Discover Italy: Rome
- Discover Italy: Business*
- Discover Italy: Rome Immersion*
- Discover Italy: Psychology*

These programs are not yet confirmed to run. The Office of International Education will email all confirmed students once minimum enrollment is met and the programs are confirmed to run. Encourage your friends to confirm!*

The purpose of this Italian Visa Application Checklist is to provide an explanation of the Italian visa requirements issued by the Italian Consulate in NYC, help guide students with their Italian Visa application process, and explain the additional assistance that will be provided by OIE.

- The requirements of the Italian Consulate in NYC are available here, under "Students participating in study abroad programs":
http://www.consnewyork.esteri.it/consolato_newyork/en/i_servizi/per_chi_si_reca_in_italia/studenti.html
- The Italian Consulate in NYC may issue updates to these requirements. If they do, OIE will share these updates with you.

If you have difficulty scheduling an appointment, the Consulate recommends that you check the on-line appointment system a few minutes before 6:00pm EST every day (and then continue to refresh the page). Based on past experience of other students, OIE also recommends that you check periodically throughout the day. Many students have been able to secure appointments at other times.

Applying for an Italian Permit of Stay Fall 2019

The Italian government requires you to register your visa, and your presence in Italy, by applying for a Permesso di Soggiorno, or Permit of Stay. This is required by Italian immigration law, therefore failure to comply will result in dismissal from your study abroad program.

The St. John's Rome team will help guide you through the Permesso di Soggiorno application process, and related travel regulations. Below is a summary of the process both prior to and after arrival in Rome.

How does the Permesso di Soggiorno application process affect my independent travel?

According to E.U. immigration regulations, for the first 90 days of your student visa, you are allowed to (1) travel freely in Italy; and (2) exit Italy to travel to another E.U. country and then re-enter Italy. This travel must be conducted with your passport, the receipt showing that you submitted a Permesso di Soggiorno application, and additional paperwork that will be provided to you in Rome.

After the initial 90-day period, you are allowed to continue to travel freely within Italy. However, you cannot enter and re-enter Italy without receiving your Permesso di Soggiorno card. Please note that it is highly unlikely that your Permesso di Soggiorno card will be issued prior to the end of your study abroad program in Italy.

Therefore, we suggest that once you are able to book independent travel, you plan to travel to other countries in Europe during the first 90 days of the study abroad program, and save some of your plans to explore all of the amazing cities and towns in Italy for the end of the semester. You should not book any independent travel for weekends or breaks until you receive your Permesso di Soggiorno finger-printing appointment date, course syllabi and the final Academic Calendar. Please note that your finger-printing appointment could occur during a semester break period.

Estimated timeframe for the Permesso di Soggiorno application process

- Prior to departure: Receive your Permesso paperwork from the Italian consulate at the same time that you receive your passport with affixed visa; and use the instructions on the following page to complete the first part of your Permesso online application.
- Weeks 1-2 of your study abroad program: Complete Permesso paperwork during orientation, and present your Permesso request at the local post office. After going to the local post office, the St. John's Rome team will provide you with the date for your finger-printing appointment at the central immigration office. This appointment is usually within 8 to 12 weeks' time, and is assigned by the Italian immigration authorities. The appointment cannot be changed. The Academic Calendar for Rome semester programs will be finalized after your Permesso di Soggiorno finger-printing appointment is confirmed.
- Weeks 8-12 of your study abroad program: Attend your mandatory finger-printing appointment at the central immigration office. After you have been finger-printed, the Italian government has a minimum 40-business day processing period to issue your official Permesso di Soggiorno card. However, this processing period has no maximum time frame. Therefore, it is highly unlikely that your Permesso di Soggiorno card will be issued prior to the end of your study abroad program in Italy.

- Past 90-days from the start of your student visa: You cannot legally exit and re-enter Italy unless you have received your Permesso di Soggiorno card. You also cannot legally travel within the E.U. without your Permesso di Soggiorno card. Please note that some students from other universities who have traveled outside of Italy after the first 90 days and then attempted to return to Italy without having received their Permesso di Soggiorno card, have been prevented from re-entering Italy and even been detained in jail.
- Past 40-business day processing period: The St. John's Rome team will check regularly to see if and when your Permesso di Soggiorno card is delivered to the local police station. If your Permesso is issued prior to the end of your study abroad program, you will then go to the police station to collect it.
- At the expiration of your student visa: You are no longer bound by the regulations of the Permesso, and automatically convert from “student visa” to “tourist” status. If your visa expires later than the last day of the study abroad program, and you wish to travel in Europe after the program, the Permesso regulations apply until the expiration date of your visa.
- Travel after the expiration date of your student visa: Under current Italian immigration law, once your Italian student visa expires, U.S. citizen students who wish to continue to travel in Italy are allowed to do so for up to 89 additional days.
 - Please keep in mind that these additional 89 days are also restricted by the regulation that U.S. citizens may only spend 89 or fewer days in the Schengen territory within a 180-day period under this “tourist” status. It is your responsibility to closely monitor the days that you spend in the Schengen territory – a useful tool to help with this is the European Commission’s Schengen calculator. This means that you have to count the days you may spend in the Schengen area both before the start date of your Italian student visa and after the end date of the visa. Please keep in mind that it is often challenging to secure a visa stamp when traveling within Europe, therefore you should retain proof of all plane tickets and hotel reservations as proof of the days that you are outside of the Schengen territory. Any partial day that you spend in the Schengen territory, even on a layover in an airport, is counted as a full day towards part of your 89-day limit. You should also review the United States and Schengen Borders Agreement available from the U.S. Department of State.
 - Students who are citizens of other countries need to research whether or not they require a visa to remain in Italy or travel to other countries both during and after the end of the program.

Complete your Permesso di Soggiorno online application prior to departure

1. Register with Eduitalia via the following link: <https://secure.edu-services.org/eduservices/plc/SJU/Fall2019>. Complete the online application (9 step process). You will need to refer to your passport and visa to complete this application.
2. After registration, you may receive a confirmation email from Eduitalia. Please note, not all students receive the confirmation email, and it is ok if you do not receive it. You do not have to pay the approximately 173 Euro Permesso di Soggiorno fee. It is included in your Office of International Education program fee.
3. You will need to bring all of the stamped paperwork returned by the Italian Consulate to the Rome Campus. This is the “Packet of Document Photocopies,” which will include the following:
 - Copy of your acceptance letter in Italian and English
 - Copy of your proof of financial support
 - Copy of your GeoBlue health insurance verification letter
 *All with a stamp from the Italian Consulate on the first page.
 - You also need to bring the copies you made of your passport and visa; and 4 passport-size photos.
